

Miss Nagel Entertains at the Chevy Chase Club In Honor of Miss Helen Taft and Her House Guests

Informal Dinners Are Planned by Members of the Cabinet.

Miss Helen Taft and her four young house guests, Miss Phyllis Rice, Miss Marian Crane, Miss Isabel Vincent, and Miss Gordon Hamilton, from Bryn Mawr, were the principal guests of Miss Nagel, daughter of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, at a luncheon at the Chevy Chase Club today. Others in the party were Miss Shirley Putnam, Miss Mabel Johnson, and Miss Sophy Johnston.

The President and Mrs. Taft have a small party of young people with them at the White House for Thanksgiving in addition to their daughter, Miss Helen Taft, and their younger son, Charles Taft, who arrived for the holidays a day or two ago. The party will dine informally at the White House tonight.

The day will be observed quite without formality by most of the Cabinet circle, also. The Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox will have their family dining with them and the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. MacVeagh will have an informal company dining with them. The Secretary of War, Mr. Dickinson, will dine with Gen. and Mrs. John W. Foster, in the absence of Mrs. Dickinson, who has been called to their home in Tennessee on account of the illness of their son. The Secretary attended church at St. Patrick's this morning, and later was among the guests of the Rev. William T. Russell, pastor of the church, at luncheon, which followed the services at the rectory.

The Attorney General and Mrs. Wickersham will dine this evening with the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Nagel, who will have no other guests, and the Postmaster General, Mr. Hitchcock, will be among the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Gibson tonight at dinner.

The Secretary of the Navy, whose family is abroad, will spend part of the morning at the department, and will ride later in the day with the chief of staff of the army, Gen. Leonard Wood.

The Secretary of the Interior attended the services at St. Patrick's, and also the luncheon given by Father Russell this morning, and will dine this evening with the Assistant Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Frank Pierce. The Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Wilson, will dine informally with his son, Jasper Wilson, at their apartment at the Portland.

Dr. and Mrs. Morgan
Are Hosts at Reception.

Dr. and Mrs. William Gerry Morgan were hosts at a large reception this evening at their residence, 1616 Sixteenth street, in compliment to Dr. Max Einhorn, the noted specialist, of New York, and Mrs. Einhorn.

Palms, ferns, and huge clusters of yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned the drawing-rooms and the dining-room was decorated with pink chrysanthemums. An orchestra played throughout the evening.

Mrs. Morgan received her guests in a gown of white satin, embellished in pearls and trimmed in bands of fur.

Miss Elizabeth Farmer Reeside, daughter of Mrs. Howard S. Reeside, will make her debut at a tea on Monday, December 19, at 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeside and Miss Reeside have recently returned to this country from an extended stay abroad.

Morrison-Smith
Nuptials Celebrated.

The marriage of Miss Sarah Grace Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, to James Ernest Smith, of Rochester, N. H., took place last evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother.

Only a small gathering of relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. G. O. Little, but a number of additional guests were asked for the reception which followed, from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. Morrison escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a handsome lace robe embroidered in pearls, with a veil of tulle held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Laura Arnold, of Ridgway, Pa., and Miss Carrie Orth, of Washington, extended the bride's bridesmaids. Miss Arnold wore pink silk net over chiffon and tulle, and Miss Orth wore pink tulle. Both carried white chrysanthemums tied with pink tulle.

Edward C. Merrill, of Massachusetts, a classmate of the bridegroom at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, class of 1906, acted as best man.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with quantities of palms and white chrysanthemums in the drawing room and pink in the reception hall.

Miss Lila McBeth, a friend of the bride, played the wedding music.

Mrs. Morrison, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of white crepe trimmed with satin and passementerie.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left Washington after the reception for a honeymoon trip. Mrs. Smith traveled in a tailored suit of blue with a blue hat.

Upon their return to Washington they will reside at 1323 Fairmont street, where they will be at home after December 1.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. Morrison, of East Orange, N. J., brother and sister-in-law of the bride; and Wilbur F. Smith, of Nashua, N. H., brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Williamson Weds At Her Mother's Home

Miss Roberta Williamson, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Williamson, was married to William Buchly, of Portsmouth, Va., yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony, which was performed in the home of the bride's mother, at 1312 Twelfth street northwest, by the Rev. Samuel H. Greene, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, was attended by a large party of relatives and intimate friends.

Miss Fay Baumgardner, of Asheville, N. C., played the wedding music, and the house was beautifully adorned with palms, ferns, and clusters of white carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white mull with a wide band of white lace and a wide band of white lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Irene S. Perry, who was maid of honor, wore a becoming gown of pale mull with a wide band of white lace and a wide band of white lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Olive G. White, who was bridesmaid, wore a becoming gown of pale mull with a wide band of white lace and a wide band of white lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Laura Arnold, of Ridgway, Pa., and Miss Carrie Orth, of Washington, extended the bride's bridesmaids. Miss Arnold wore pink silk net over chiffon and tulle, and Miss Orth wore pink tulle. Both carried white chrysanthemums tied with pink tulle.

Edward C. Merrill, of Massachusetts, a classmate of the bridegroom at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, class of 1906, acted as best man.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with quantities of palms and white chrysanthemums in the drawing room and pink in the reception hall.

Dement-Kaiser
Marriage Celebrated.

Miss Bertha R. Dement and Albert W. Kaiser were married last evening at 5 o'clock in the parsonage of St. Theresa's Catholic Church, Anacostia, the Rev. M. P. J. Egan officiating.

The bride wore a handsome tailored suit of brown cloth with brown beaver hat.

Miss Beatrice Dement, sister of the bride, attended her sister as maid of honor, and Elmer Dement, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Kaiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser left Washington shortly after the ceremony for an extended Northern bridal trip. After January 5 they will be at home to their friends at 136 Thirteenth street southeast.

Miss Galbraith
Weds Lieutenant Davis.

The wedding of Miss Mary E. Galbraith, daughter of Major Jacob G. Galbraith, U. S. A., and Mrs. Galbraith, to Lieutenant Bowers Davis, U. S. A., took place last evening at 8 o'clock in the parsonage of the Portner. The ceremony, which was attended by a large party of relatives and friends, was performed by the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, pastor of St. John's Church.

Quantities of palms, ferns, and white chrysanthemums adorned the house and the wedding music was played by Charles Lavelle, of Georgetown University, a cousin of the bride.

The bride, who was escorted and given in marriage by her father, Major Galbraith, wore an exquisite princess lace robe draped over soft white satin. Her veil was arranged with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Edith Baird, who was maid of honor, wore white lace over silk trimmed with touches of burnt orange satin and carried a cluster of white chrysanthemums.

Shippin Cotton West, of Philadelphia, was best man for Lieutenant Davis.

An informal reception followed the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Galbraith, mother of the bride, who assisted her son-in-law and daughter in receiving their guests, wore blue velvet with an overdress of chiffon.

Later in the evening Lieutenant Davis and his bride left Washington for a wedding trip to Atlantic City and Schenectady.

The bride and groom were traveling in a traveling suit of navy blue cloth with a velvet tunic of the same shade. After the ceremony the bride and groom will be at home at Madison Barracks, N. Y., where Lieutenant Davis is now stationed.

Among the guests from out of town who attended the wedding ceremony were Gen. Charles Davis, U. S. A., Miss Emily Davis, and Miss Bowers, father, sister, and aunt of the bridegroom from Schenectady, N. Y., and Mrs. Hunter B. Nelson, wife of Captain Nelson, U. S. A., of Madison Barracks, N. Y., an aunt of the bride.

Charity Ball Held
By Octagon Club.

One of the most brilliant affairs of the season took place last evening, when the Octagon Club held its third annual charity ball at Raucher's.

The large ball-room was thronged with elegantly dressed women, and was magnificently decorated with the club colors—blue and gray, and palms.

Mrs. Archibald Davis, wife of Commander Davis, U. S. N., arrived in Washington last evening from Cuba, and is visiting her father and sister, Col. Francis Colton and Miss Margaret Colton, at their home in Connecticut avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Crowninshield will close their Boston residence shortly and come to Washington to spend the winter with the father of the latter, Senator du Pont.

POOR HOUSE FIRE CHRISTMAS FETE

Citizens of New Jersey
Town Will Give $5,000
Celebration This Year.

MONTCCLAIR, N. J., Nov. 24.—Citizens here will be entertained in the Christmas holidays by a $5,000 bonfire, the material for which will be provided by the town poor house, which stands on a knoll in the southern part of the town, near the Glen Ridge line, and which will be abandoned the latter part of next week, when its thirteen inmates will be transferred to the Orange poor house, near Livingston.

The building is on a park tract which the Essex county park commission desires to improve, and the commission recently requested the town to remove it. The town authorities, however, have decided that the best method of disposal is incineration.

The town carried about $4,000 insurance on the building and contents until a few weeks ago. The building and its contents could be sold, as only today Mayor Crawford received an offer for the structure from a man who intended to use the material for constructing a house in the poorer quarter of Montclair, but it was feared that the house, having long sheltered the sick and decrepit, might contribute to the spread of contagion.

GIRLS USE HATPINS TO CHECK LINEMEN

Police Couldn't Make Them
Yield to Planting of Post
Near Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Armed with hatpins, three pretty girls yesterday held at bay seven workmen of the New York Telephone Company who had dug a four-foot hole in front of 211 Thatford avenue, Brooklyn, where the girls live, and had started to erect a pole.

The leader of the defenders was Miss Ida Levine, twenty-two years old, and she was ably aided and abetted by Misses Bessie and Annie Levine, her sisters. It was a huge joke to the girls, although when the workmen tried to get near the telephone hole, they discovered that it probably would prove a serious joke to them if they went too close.

"Please, like a nice, obliging gentleman, come within arm's reach and let me jab this nice long hat pin into you?" pleaded Miss Ida, smiling pleasantly at the leader of the workmen. "Come on and plant the pole; please do."

Despite this urgent invitation the workmen hung back, each being too shy to be the first to accept. The girls laughed and bantered the men, but about two steps forward by any of the workmen sufficed to bring to the front an array of hat pins that looked like a section of a porcupine's back.

The workmen protested, pleaded, threatened, and cajoled, but without effect. The police were called without success. Legal action may follow.

LETTER CARRIERS AUXILIARY FORMED

Mrs. Lillie M. Klueber, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 47, Oriole Branch, No. 175, of the National Association of Letter Carriers, of Baltimore, is in Washington, and last night spoke at the meeting of Capital Branch, No. 142, of the association at Eagles' Hall. Twenty women formed a temporary auxiliary with Mrs. E. C. Kines as chairman, and Mrs. J. W. Murphy as secretary.

SPENT $3,000.00 BEFORE USING POSLAM

Cured of Eczema After Thirty-Seven Years—One Box Did More Good Than All Else.

"Mrs. Dodd suffered with eczema for thirty-seven years," writes Mr. William P. Dodd, Neva, Ind. "I spent over $3,000.00 in doctoring it, got me to try poslam. She is now cured. One fifty-cent box did her more good than all the doctoring I had done."

There is no doubt about the efficacy of poslam. It is probably the most widely recommended remedy available to the public, solely because of its remarkable power to heal affected skin, curing all eczema, acne, tetter, scabies, etc. Bacterial infections so prone to spread are checked at once. Itching stops and minor troubles such as pimples, undue redness, rashes, complexion blemishes, etc., go quickly when poslam is applied. Whenever the skin is poslam should be used first before anything less certain is experimented with.

Poslam is sold in two sizes (trial, 50 cents; regular jars, $2) by all druggists, particularly Ogram's, O'Donnell's, the People's Drug Store, and Africa's. For free sample write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.
